01-C1: Importance of Accounting

Importance of Accounting

Accounting is an information and measurement system that identifies, records, and communicates relevant information to help people make better decisions.

01-C2: Users of Accounting Information

Users of Financial Information

Accounting is called the language of business because all organizations set up an accounting information system to communicate data to help people make better decisions. Accounting serves many users who can be divided into two groups: external users and internal users.

Opportunities in Accounting

Accounting information is in all aspects of our lives. When we earn money, pay taxes, invest savings, budget earnings, and plan for the future, we use accounting.

NEED-TO-KNOW

Identify the following users of accounting information as either an (a) external or (b) internal user.

Regulator a) External user CEO b) Internal user Shareholder a) External user Controller b) Internal user Executive Employee b) Internal user External Auditor a) External user Production Manager b) Internal user Nonexecutive Employee a) External user

External users of accounting information are NOT directly involved in running the organization.

Internal users of accounting information ARE directly involved in managing and operating an organization.

01-C3: Ethics

Ethics – A Key Concept

The goal of accounting is to provide useful information for decisions. For information to be useful, it must be trusted. This demands ethics in accounting. Ethics are beliefs that distinguish right from wrong. They are accepted standards of good and bad behavior.

Fraud Triangle

Three factors must exist for a person to commit fraud: opportunity, pressure, and rationalization.
